Proposition P on the Aug. 6 primary ballot will ask taxpayers to approve a 1/4 mill (25 cents per $1,000) for five years to improve and operate several county parks. Among them are Hines Park, Elizabeth Park and Fort Wayne.

This levy is estimated to generate $7.9 million in 1997.

PCB plan draws protest

Opponents of the EQ/Waste Disposal plan to store PCBs in its toxic waste facility packed the second public hearing at the Belleville High School auditorium.

Two more long sought after members of the administration of Mayor William Oakley were appointed recently, as David Wehner was named Building Department head and Richard Marsh Jr. was selected as Community Development director.

Wehner, 34, who received his bachelor's degree in civil engineering from Michigan Technological University, began as city building department chief on June 17.

He most recently was a building officer in Bedford Township of Monroe County, where he currently resides.

He also was the project engineer for three tunnel companies.

Wehner said he was attracted to the Romulus scene by the unique mixture of commercial and industrial development here that he felt would uniquely add to his residential business background.

Sex, alcohol use reported high by Romulus students

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Alcohol use among Romulus students appears to be a growing problem as they rise from the seventh to 11th grades, a survey has revealed.

The survey was completed by Search Institute of Minneapolis, Minn. for the school district.

The stated alcohol use (once or more) in the last 12 months according to the various grade levels is: 46 percent in the seventh grade, 67 percent in the ninth grade and 82 percent in the 11th grade.

Those using alcohol 20 or more times in the same time period were: three percent in the seventh grade, eight percent in the ninth grade and 15 percent in the 11th grade.

When the time frame was lowered to the last 30 days, the grade percentages listed for Wehner replaces David Paul, who now serves as head of the city's Department of Public Works.

Marsh, 35, was a senior planner in Jackson's Community Development Department. He also held posts there including administrative analyst and director of the city's Neighborhood Resource Centers.

While working in Jackson, he attended Eastern Michigan University and graduated in 1995.

Marsh said he is now working on his master's degree in public administration and hopes to be awarded that degree next fall.

Marsh said he was impressed with Oakley's leadership and the potential for his career growth opportunity in Romulus.

Marsh said he saw an advertisement for the Romulus position several weeks ago. He applied and was interviewed by Oakley, toured the Romulus area and accepted the position on June 28.

Marsh replaces Jane Downing, who left the city following the defeat of then Mayor Beverly McAnally.

one time users or more were: 25 percent for the seventh grade, 36 for the ninth grade and 51 percent for the 11th grade.

Those consuming three or more alcoholic drinks were: 12 percent in the seventh grade, 16 percent in the ninth grade and 23 percent in the 11th grade.

Will Lewkowicz get new trial?

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

Complaining his former attorney did not call three prime defense witnesses, Romulus anti-deepwell activist Steve Lewkowicz is petitioning Chief 34th District Court Judge Tina Brooks Green for a new trial.

Lewkowicz was found guilty on June 3 of obstructing Romulus Police Department actions in City Hall on the eve of the 1995 Romulus city elections. The jury was composed of four women and two men.

He was sentenced to 15 days on the Wayne County work program by Chief 34th District Court Judge Tina Brooks Green. He also was fined $150 and assessed $150 in court cost.

On July 17, Lewkowicz and his new attorney, Frank Becker, sought an emergency hearing to stay the work sentence in anticipation of asking for a possible new trial.

Assistant Wayne County Prosecutor Marie Petito however had not been informed of the request, she told Green in open court. In addition Petito revealed she was going on vacation for two weeks.

Green thus set a hearing time of 2 p.m. Aug. 14 for Becker's petitions in the Lewkowicz case.

Green did however temporarily stay Lewkowicz's work program schedule until after the hearing. Lewkowicz said, he had already completed five of the 15 days of the work program. Green said she only had record of him doing three days, but admitted it might not have been an up to date report.

Green said she also wanted affidavits this week from three reported defense witnesses, who former Lewkowicz attorney Michael Lynett did not call to the stand during the recent trial.

Green said the Lewkowicz defense has filed a petition claiming that he was denied effective assistance by Lynett in his past two day trial.

The jury also found Lewkowicz not guilty of assault and battery on a city janitor during the pre-election day scuffle.

The scuffle took place when Lewkowicz charged that the city's cable coordinator Oliver Warren purposely blocked the showing of a portion of the pre-election day council meetings.

Lewkowicz entered the cable office supposedly in an effort to rectify the cable's technological problems, but then got into a physical tussle with then Police Chief Daryl Poe, several other police officers and city employees.

One policeman, Officer John Leacher, injured in the fracas attended the session last week.

Ryznar sentencing deferred 6 months

John Ryznar, who owns the property that the first planned commercial environmental deepwell was located on, pleaded no contest to an assault and battery complaint last week.

Ryznar was charged on Feb. 21 with an assault upon Carl Brooks inside the City Council Chambers on Jan. 8.

He was ordered held on $200 cash bond pending last week's court hearing.

Thirty fourth District Court Judge Henry Zaborowski deferred sentencing Ryznar for six months.

Dole makes promises of better education

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

Former state senator and Republican presidential hopeful, Bob Dole was in Michigan to discuss his views on the future of education.

The public forum took place July 18 at Greenfield Village in Dearborn. Also in attendance were Governor John Engler, Secretary of State Candace Miller, and a number of other political officials.

Gov. Engler spoke of Dole leaving his education behind to fight the battle in World War II. When he, and the other soldiers, came back, they were offered an education at any college or university in the country under the G.I. Bill. This is the main idea behind Dole's "Consumer Warranty," the governor said.

"It is what parents get in return for their investment in their children's education," Engler said.

According to the governor, Americans spend $300 billion annually on education.

"This shows their commitment to the young as a social expenditure to get them out of poverty," the governor explained. Dole's warranty includes more opportunity and choices in the areas of health care, colleges, day care, and helping to prepare for the graduates.

"We have been in this battle for a long time," Engler said. "The challenge is what can we do differently to inspire parents and give more options to the kids. Mr. Dole recently made the comment that kids are 25 percent of our population, and 100 percent of our future. There is a high level of ignorance. It's like a hurricane off shore. We need to be better guided with more choices."

Larry Patrick, who once worked with former U.S. Secretary of Education, Lemar Alexander, said that he recently saw a list of what people look for when they are buying a house. He explained that safe schools was number one on the list.

"When choosing a school, most say safety is their top priority," Patrick said. "It's not the teachers, because most of them are very good. They insist on a place where their child will be safe while receiving a quality education."

Dole explained that charter schools offer more competition with more choices. "I went to public schools," Dole said. "My wife went to public schools as did our children. But public schools have changed since I was there. It seems those in positions of power have more choices. Everyone wants the best education for their child. People in low to middle income levels want the best education for their children."

The presidential candidate explained that he had just come from Wisconsin, where they have a schools of choice program, and it is working. "Nothing is more important than education," Dole said. "Education reform should be right at the top. For those wondering why we have primary elections, it is so we can focus our views, and bring about a fundamental change. Your child is just as valuable to you as anyone else's child is to them. We're going to make this work. In Washington D.C., they don't have safe schools. We tried a scholarship program, but the union turned it down. It will be up to the rest of us to give education to children in the District (of Columbia) as well as in Kansas, and Michigan, and everywhere else. When I am elected, I will have the votes, and I am going to get it done."

Patrick made the comment that the difference with Dole is that he can get it done. "Michigan has everything," Patrick said. "They are path breaking with charter schools. The governor is one more thing for Michigan to be proud of. It makes a real difference to have a president with ideas like the governor, because it makes the rest of us more jealous."

Governor Engler responded, "We will have 80 charter schools next year. We are the third in the nation, but we would never say it is the only game in town. We have a million and a half students in the state."

A local supporter of charter schools mentioned that every charter school in the state has a very long waiting list. "Competition drives prices down, and quality up," he said, asking Dole, "What plans do you have to enable students in down, but their drop-out rate is up, and test scores are down. "Everything is going down," Dole said. "It will come back up with competition."

Sharon Wise, who is on the State Board of Education, said that item six on Dole's warranty mentions that students attending the schools have the freedom to be innovative, and are not tied down by red tape. "Why are opponents of choice so afraid of freedom?" she asked.

Dole explained that when he was attending school, they had their share of problems as well. "It wasn't a lot of red tape," he said. "We didn't want to work too hard. Teachers had a line of discipline though. There must be discipline if you are going to succeed later."

Gov. Engler expressed his feeling that the line between Dole and the current administration is broad.

Alexander commented, "Races are about different opinions. (President Bill) Clinton chose a good school for his child, as his mother did for him. Dole believes in giving low and middle income families the same choices."

ROMULUS NEWS
DIGESTDaytime firemen shortage revealed

The Romulus Fire Department is seeking local volunteers to sign on for day time hours (7 a.m. to 5 p.m.). Fire Chief David Allison revealed last Friday.

Applicants for those hours are currently the most critically needed, Allison said, and we would be willing to work even with those who could only cover a portion of that time period.

Applicants need to be at least 18 years of age, have a high school diploma or a General Education Diploma (GED) and be in generally good health, he explained.

Further information can be obtained by calling 941-8585.

Romulus marine awarded medal

Marine Sgt. Andrew J. Ozog, son of Joseph and Antoina Ozog of Romulus, recently received the Marine Corps Good Conduct Medal.

The medal recognizes Ozog's honest and faithful service during a three-year period. To earn the award, Ozog achieved and maintained a satisfactory level of performance and an unblemished conduct record for the entire period.

Education golf outing planned

A golf outing is planned for Sept. 18 at the Shady Hollow Golf Course of Romulus in support of the Romulus Educational Foundation.

The golf outing is the first fundraiser of the new educational support group and will begin with a 1 p.m. shotgun start.

Tickets may be purchased by calling Louise Briody at the Romulus School Administration office at 941-1600.

Local airman wins promotion

Joshua S. Remelius, a 1995 graduate of Romulus High School, has been promoted to the rank of airman in the U.S. Air Force.

Remelius, son of Richard A. Remelius of Romulus, is currently a weapons load crew member at Tyndall Air Force Base in Panama City, Fla.

Romulus-Pistons' ties have doubled

The Romulus hometown ties to the Detroit Pistons team doubled as former Eagle great Grant Long joined his cousin Terry Mills.

Long for the last few years has returned to Romulus High School for a three-day basketball camp.

No date has been set for this year's camp session, but a city Recreation Department spokeswoman said "maybe the trade will speed up that session's announcement."

Long expressed great pleasure several years ago when he conducted the first camp to find out that Romulus High School now has one of the best (if not the best) gymnasium in the Wayne County area.

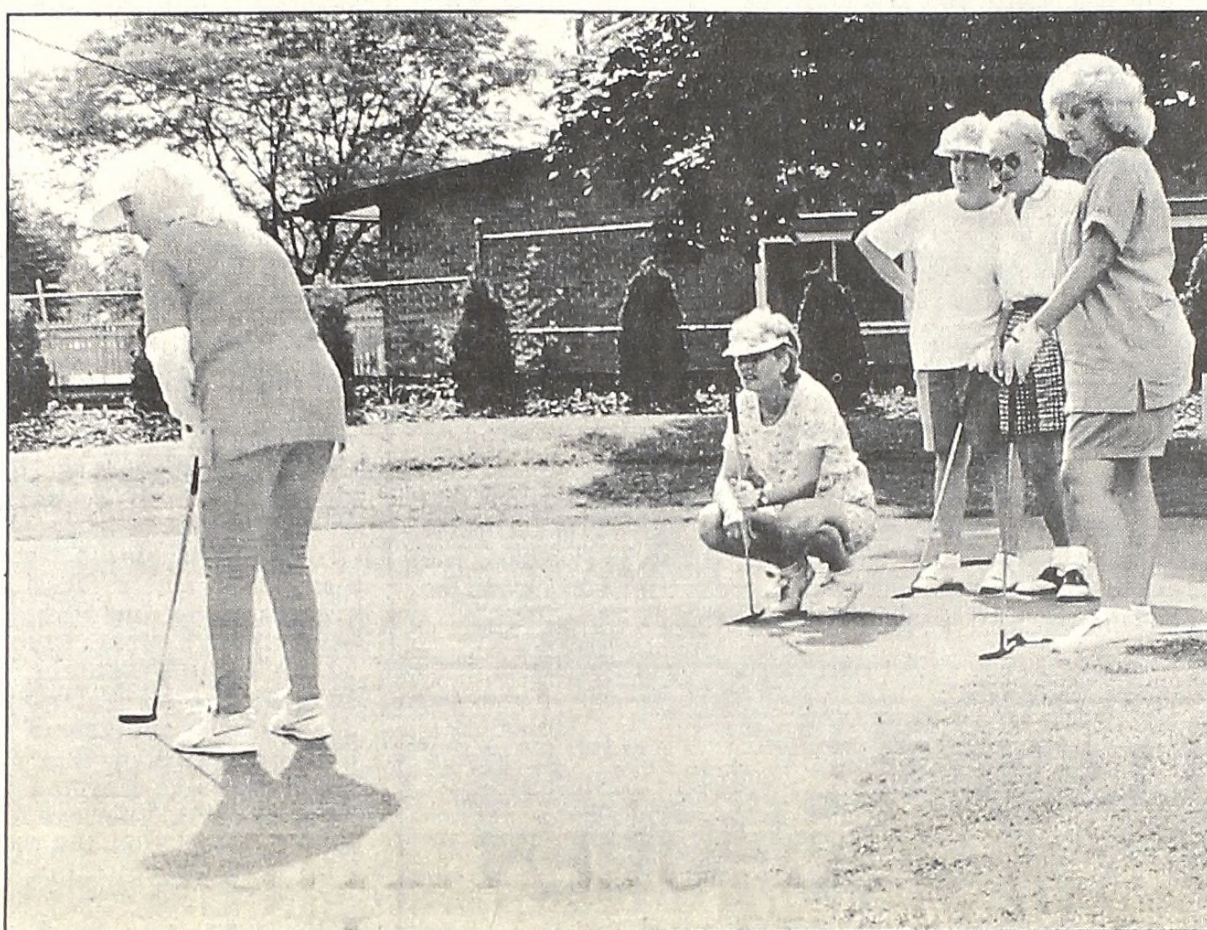

Neighborhood
Watch
to meet July 31

The about to be formed Neighborhood Watch program for the residents of the Applewood subdivision will conduct its first meeting at 7 p.m. July 31 at Fire Station 4, leader Jennifer Nemeth said today.

Nemeth appeared at the July 8 Romulus City Council meeting to express her neighbors' concerns about crime and traffic problems and Mayor William Oakley offered the residents the use of the main firehouse for the group's meetings.

Several Romulus police and council officials plan to attend the session as well, Nemeth was told.

Those interested in talking to Nemeth about the Neighborhood Watch program can reach her by calling 942-1648.

Video arraignments ready

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The planned video arraignments at the 34th District Court for those arrested in Romulus and the other four area communities could start as early as this week, court officials revealed Monday.

Court Administrator Russell B. Franzen said the video hook-up work was being done Monday and Tuesday within the Romulus-based court building and at that time the only community police station ready was in Van Buren.

The Romulus City Council was expected to approve the video arraignment cost package Monday night and thus Romulus Police Headquarters was expected to be ready for hook-up almost momentarily.

Romulus Police Chief Charles Kirby wrote a recent letter to the council stating "this system will expedite arraignments and reduce an already negative impact to daily personnel allocation by freeing up our personnel for other assignments."

He urged the council to allow the 34th District Court to purchase the video imaging equipment for Romulus police needs and then reimburse the court for the city's costs.

The other three communities slated to be added are Belleville, Sumpter and Huron Townships.

Chief 34th District Court Judge Tina Brooks Green with strong support from Romulus Mayor William Oakley were working to have the video arraignments operational as soon as possible.

Green wrote "video arraignments will reduce security problems, time spent at the hearings, jail space needed at the courthouse, time for the accused to wait for court and officer down time associated with transporting prisoners."

Thus in effect the video system will reduce overall expenses and equipment use.

She said "the court is proposing that we purchase the system for Romulus at the group rate and invoice the city for the same.

"The cost to Romulus would be the Picture Tel Live 100 system for $4,690, and NTL integration system for $295 and an optional three year or five year maintenance agreement at $1,573.20 and $2,622 respectively," Green said.

A flat rate training fee of $498.50 installation fee is included in the cost, Green said.

The main feature being stressed in adding the system is the fact that eliminating the need to travel to the 34th District Court building once or more a day would add to the health and safety of local law enforcement officials and their prisoners.

Video hook-ups would be added to the courtrooms of Green and Judges Henry Zaborowski and William Szlinis.

Auto parts store approved

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The AutoZone supply business scored a major win Monday night, as City Councilman William Crova switched his former abstention to a yes vote giving the national chain its needed fifth zoning change vote.

Crova, whose family operates a competing business, apparently changed his vote designation after Mayor William Oakley reminded him prior to the meeting that in reality his abstention was a no vote on the auto business.

Crova had abstained from voting on the zoning change both on the planning commission level and at the opening council zone change hearing two weeks ago.

The biggest objection presented by neighbors was that opening a store of that size, 7,500 square feet, would cause a major traffic increase on neighboring side streets and put children at risk.

One nearby resident complained that several trees would be removed because of the construction and thus she feared "the birds would leave. My backyard is my vacation area and thus I am strongly opposed to the construction of this large building."

Since Romulus is located on one side of Van Born road and Wayne on the other, veteran Councilman Jimmie Raspberry said if Romulus says no, AutoZone would probably then seek property on the Wayne side of Van Born.

AutoZone and its $10,000 city tax level then would move to Wayne, he predicted.

The only two council members to oppose the large auto supply store were Deborah Romak and Randolph Gear.

In an unrelated matter, the council also voted to conduct a 5:15 p.m. Monday study session on the issue of ballot language for a proposed change in the City Charter that would double the term lengths from two years to four years for elected city officials.

The council needs to act swiftly if it hopes to get the ballot issue on the November ballot.

The public is invited to attend that session.

Salvation Army
reopening near

By AL POST
MCN Staff Writer

The Romulus Salvation Army's pending opening of its new complex at Van Born and Middlebelt will live up to its promises of sharpening up the image of that immediate area, all Army related personnel proudly vow.

Many, who have marveled at the beauty of the new Army site, are convinced that the addition will spur other construction in that area of Romulus.

The Army's current site on Goddard Road is only 25 years old and probably could have lasted another half century, since the religious-social service unit strongly believes in preventive maintenance.

But that system could not prevent its demise as Metro Airport plans to expand sometime this century and a large portion of Goddard road will turn into an airport runway.

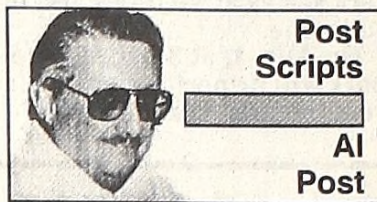

Thus a new Salvation Army Thrift Store (the backbone of Adult Rehabilitation Centers) will open late this summer (as early as Aug. 10) or at worst early this fall.

Keeping another promise to the community, the Army also has already shut down its Department of Corrections program, which created some fear as efforts to relocate the rehabilitation facility began three years ago.

The last remaining DOC prisoners left June 30 and thus the Army is hoping that its existing thrift stores and the new one about to open on Middlebelt, will fill the financial losses caused by the prisoners departure.

"So far our stores have been doing great this summer," Major Roger Senn said Monday. They (including the thrift store in Wayne) will have to continue to do exceptionally well, since store sales are the primary revenue for rehabilitation centers.

Also to be located on the Van Born-Middlebelt property will be a sorting facility (where citizen donations are prepared for delivery to local thrift stores) and the Salvation Army's administrative offices and rehabilitation center (including a large chapel).

The Salvation Army internationally is broken down into two major divisions, each with its only line of command officers. The two units include local Army Corps headquarters (such as the one on Venoy road in Westland that also services Romulus resident needs) and the rehabilitation centers (for substance abusers) such as the one in here in Romulus and others in Metro Detroit.

The Army Corps derive their funds from fund drive mailings and the well known Christmas kettle efforts, the rehabilitation centers as was explained before from the thrift store sales.

Both Army units seek to help out those suffering from different social and physical crises throughout the world, and both stress spiritual healings for their members or clients.

The Corps service many family needs as well as those economically deprived single residents.

The rehabilitation units also serve many women at their Detroit area centers, who have either drug, alcohol or prostitution backgrounds.

The Army prides itself on returning many of these persons back to positive family relationships and creative job situations.

Update Reports

R.P. Lilly provided this writer with an update on last week's column. "I don't plan to join TRUTH and (James) Rarey has only applied to be a member of RECAP!"

Rarey made no mention of a plan to move to Huron Township.

For those not familiar with the above two groups TRUTH is a Taylor-Romulus citizens group favoring a negotiated settlement on the deepwell project and RECAP is a group that totally opposes any deepwell project operations in Romulus.

course, the survey revealed that 49 percent of 11th graders in Romulus had sexual intercourse and 68 percent had sex once or more.

According to the statistics 71 percent of seventh graders had never engaged in sexual intercourse. That number drops to 50 percent by the time the students reached the ninth grade and 32 percent among 11th graders.

The survey also showed that 66 percent of the seventh graders claimed to have "always" used contraception during sex acts, while 74 percent of ninth graders made a similar claim as did 57 percent of 11th graders.

Under the stress-depression issue, 31 percent of seventh graders report no stress, strain or pressure during the past month.

At the same time 34 percent of 11th graders reported being anxious, worried or upset most of the time in the past month.

Other issues and comments from school district leaders will be published in later issues of the Romulus Roman.

Herman seeks trustee's seat in Van Buren

A member of the Foster Team, John Herman has been a resident of Van Buren for the past 10 years, residing in Canton Township for 10 years prior to that.

On the Aug. 6 primary ballot, Herman's name will appear with those seeking election for the position of trustee.

Married to Judith, Herman has one adult son. The candidate was a student at Northern High School in Detroit and Wayne Memorial High School in Wayne before attending college at Schoolcraft College and Ohio State University. He is certified in Industrial Relations, and has a degree in Business Administration.

Herman has been employed for 28 years with Ford Motor Company and the Plant Protection Association, National. In his position, he is the Safety, Security, Health, Fire and Hazardous Material Coordinator.

While he has never been a candidate for political office before, Herman has been appointed to several boards. Herman is a chairperson on the Van Buren Planning Commission, and serves as treasurer for the Economic Development Commission. He previously served on the Van Buren Public Safety Committee, chairing the millage for public safety. Herman reports that he was appointed deputy clerk of Garden City 20 years ago, a position in which he served about four years.

Herman is also active in many civic and professional organizations, including the St. Anthony's Men's Club, of which he is president, the Usher's Club, the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Knights of Columbus, and C.H.I.P.S. Professionally, Herman is a member of the American Arbitration Association, the Industrial Relations Institute, and PPAN.

Herman received a certificate of appreciation for years of service from the Archdiocese of Detroit.

"For the past six years, I have been involved in township matters like the Planning Commission, and the Economic Development Commission. As one of the original members of the appointed Van Buren Township Public Safety Committee, I have strived for Public Safety. I would like to continue this as a member of the Van Buren Township Board," Herman said.

Through his position with Ford, Herman has an understanding of hazardous material, which he feels will be an asset in dealing with the Environmental Quality Company and their bid to accept PCBs at their Van Buren landfill. "An untrained, unqualified township board would be unable to handle the EQ issue," he stated. "I believe that we (the Foster Team) will have to take a firm stand against, and resist any new or additional PCB expansion of landfills. The toxic dump proposal will be vigorously opposed by the new board, we will be prepared."

Rochowiak in the running

By LORI GILLESPIE
MCN Staff Writer

Walter Rochowiak has served on the Van Buren Board of Trustees for two terms. In this year's election, he would like to make it a third.

Rochowiak, 51, has lived in Van Buren for 48 years. He is married to Joyce, and they have two adult children.

After graduating from Belleville High School in 1963, Rochowiak attended classes at Cleary College before he went to work at Ford Motor Company. He worked for the auto maker for 14 years, before he left to start his own business. Rochowiak is the owner/operator of Garden Fantasy, a greenhouse operation, retail florist and garden center, along with farming 300 acres of cash grain crops.

Rochowiak is a member of the Wayne County Farm Bureau, the Metropolitan Detroit Flower Growers Association, the St. Anthony's Men's Club, the Belleville Area Chamber of Commerce, and the Wayne County Fair Association among others.

He has served as president of the Wayne County Farm Bureau for 10 years, is a present board member of the Metropolitan Detroit Flower Growers Association, and trustee of the Van Buren Eagles.

Among the honors he has received, Rochowiak was named "Man of the Year" by St. Anthony's Men's Club in 1996. He was given a certificate of appreciation by the Michigan State Agricultural Advisory Council, and was honored for his dedication and service by the Wayne County Farm Bureau, the Wayne County Fair, and the Boy Scouts.

"Having served the people of Van Buren for the past eight years, I feel I have the knowledge and professionalism to keep our community on the right track to planning for the future and to help serve the people of this community because I love this area and hope to help keep it sound financially," Rochowiak responded to why he decided to seek reelection.

As a member of the current administration, Rochowiak feels they took the right approach to the Environmental Quality controversy. "I feel the township officials have guided us in the right direction and will continue the fight with EQ," he said. "The citizens of our community have also stepped forward and helped as much as they can by speaking out and also letting their officials know how they feel."

Two major issues in the upcoming election, according to Rochowiak, are public safety and the environment. "As the community is growing, we are trying to maintain a viable Public Safety Department, that will meet the needs of our community and can be maintained with the funds that are available to them," he said. As for the environment, Rochowiak stated, "The main issue right now is EQ and to fight as hard as we can to prevent them from getting their licenses."

Increasing transplants is goal of Organ Donor Awareness Day

The Minority Organ Tissue Transplant Education Program (MOTTEP) of Michigan will be sponsoring National Minority Donor Awareness Day on Aug. 1.

National Minority Organ Donor Awareness Day is a part of a 15 city campaign to help increase the awareness of African Americans about organ donorship.

The day is also to encourage minorities to sign donor cards, have family discussions and give organs and tissues during life and after death.

"This is one of the most important days because African Americans have a uniqueness, while hypertension and diabetes impact us moreso than any other ethnic group," said MOTTEP Detroit Director Alfred Bolden. "Because Detroit is predominately black, the impact is greater felt."

MOTTEP is the first program of its kind in the country designed to educate minority communities about organ/tissue transplantation, empower minority communities to develop programs to increase awareness and increase participation in organ/tissue transplant endeavors, including signing donor cards.

Across the country, there are about 22,000 minorities on the transplant list. Four of those people die every day because only 25 percent of the donor pool represent minorities.

For more information about how to become a donor or about Minority Donor Awareness Day, please contact the Transplant Society of Michigan at (800) 482-4881 or the MOTTEP national office at (800) 393-2839.

Search continues for outstanding seniors

The search for Michigan's outstanding senior citizen in the categories of leadership and service is gaining momentum. Carol M. Parr, acting director of the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging (OSA), a co-sponsor of the award program, said a number of applications for this annual competition have been received.

The competition will accept applications until Aug. 2. The only criteria is that the person nominated be age 60 or older and that the organization nominating the individual be able to substantiate why the nominee excels either as a leader or volunteer. The Michigan State Fair and the Office of Services to the Aging have teamed for more than 25 years to offer the awards program, highlighting the contributions made by persons 60 and older to civic and social life. The two older adults selected for the awards will be honored at a ceremony at the Michigan State Fair Aug. 26, Senior Citizens Day.

Applications may be obtained through the Michigan Office of Services to the Aging, P.O. Box 30026, Lansing, MI 48909, 517-373-0049, or through any of the state's 14 Area Agencies of Aging. Questions about the award should be directed to Linda Kimball of OSA at 517-373-4083.

Because of their efforts, as well as the efforts of many other community-minded citizens, the Livonia YMCA has surpassed their projected goal for 1996. "Our mission is to put Christian principles into practice through programs that build healthy spirit, body and mind for all," said Hwa Stacy, Executive Director of Livonia's YMCA. "Kit supports that with a wonderful community spirit." Established in 1955, Tennyson Chevrolet is a member of the Livonia Chamber of Commerce and Livonia Rotary; and an active supporter of D.A.R.E. of Livonia.

1997 Ford Expedition debuts at Wayne

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

As the 1997 Ford Expedition truck rolled off the assembly line at the Michigan Truck Plant in Wayne, Plant Manager Frank N. Foley predicted that it will be well-received by the public.

Although Foley declined to provide an estimate of the number of new Expeditions that will be built in the truck facility, he is convinced that it will have a major impact on the market.

"This means more jobs and positive benefits for the city of Wayne," said Foley. "We've done a lot of expansion and refurbishing to get ready for this model."

Foley noted that the Expedition was introduced in response to customer demand for a stylish nine-passenger utility vehicle that provides comfort and roominess along with utility and off-road ruggedness.

The plant manager described the introduction of the new Expedition as a proud moment for the company, staff and workers.

Foley noted that the new utility vehicle combines power and best-in-class highway fuel economy in its two V-8 truck engines — a 4.6-liter, V-8, generating 215 horsepower and a 5.4-liter V-8 which generates 230 h.p., and can tow up to 8,000 pounds and has a maximum payload of 2,000 pounds.

"Number One — it means job security," said Jeff Washington, president of UAW Local 900. "It's an opportunity for our older employees and also provides an opportunity for our kids and grandkids to gain employment."

The 1997 Ford Expedition, which will be built at the Michigan Truck Plant, was introduced in May at the Ford's annual stockholders meeting.

The plant has three crews, with current employment at 3,717.

It is an all-new, full-size, four-door, nine-passenger utility vehicle that fits easily into standard-size garages.

The Expedition has standard driver- and passenger-side air bags, which is a first for domestic full-sized utility vehicles. In addition, Expedition features standard four-wheel anti-lock brakes, child safety locks on second-row doors, passive anti-theft system and adjustable height shoulder belts for better seat comfort.

The new truck has a 119-inch wheelbase with ample space for up to nine passengers with an optional third-row seat. With the second row folded and the third-row seat removed, Expedition offers 115 cubic feet of cargo space.

The Expedition is available in 4-by-4 and 4-by-2 drive configurations, including the XLT and Eddie Bauer models.

The new utility vehicle is expected to appeal to four different kinds of customers:

- Owners of compact sport utilities who are looking for more room or greater towing and cargo capabilities.

- Passenger car and van owners who want the sporty style of a utility vehicle along with the refinements of a luxury car.

- Owners of large utility vehicles who want easier passenger accessibility and more comfort.

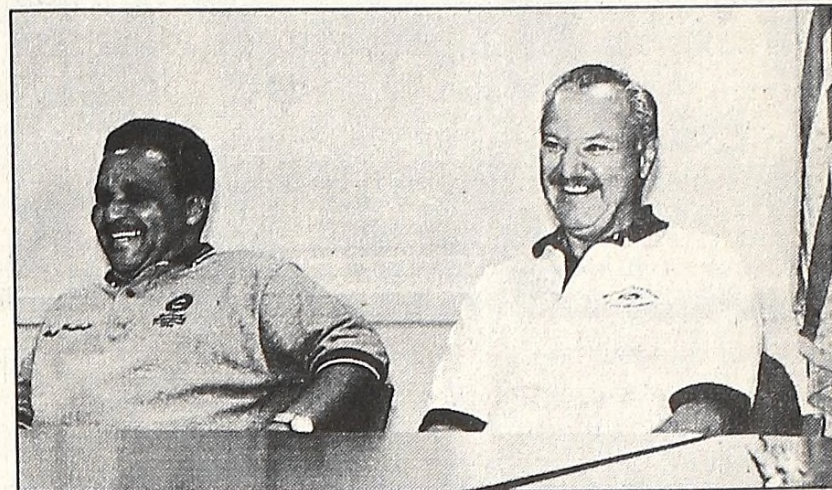

- Traditional commercial utility owners who need a rugged passenger mover with high payload capacity.

Stores volunteer, donate 5%

All metro Detroit are Hudson's, Mervyn's and Target stores joined together to participate in a volunteer effort on June 22 to celebrate Dayton Hudson Corporation's 50th anniversary of giving five percent of its federally taxable income to support non-profit organizations.

Almost 400 volunteers from the three divisions gathered approximately 300 bags of leaves, trimmed bushes, planted flowers and painted the interior of the Waterford Senior Center as part of the Day of Giving program.

Hudson's Retiree Volunteer Association served lunches to all the volunteers, with food and snacks provided by Hudson's and Target. Located in a former school, the center provides comprehensive services to low income local residents.

Other combined store efforts around the state included: providing, assembling and delivering gift packages to a local senior center in Flint; assisting the YWCA with their Domestic Assault Prevention Program in Kalamazoo; and walking dogs, cleaning kennels and taking donations for the Huron Valley Humane Society of Ann Arbor.

Voters to cast ballots for leaders

Vying for the office of county prosecuting attorney are Democrats John D. O'Hair, the incumbent, and Virgil C. Smith Jr. On the Republican side of the ballot, Thomas Esordi and Donald Knapp are seeking the post.

Incumbent Robert Ficano is the lone Democratic candidate for Wayne County Sheriff. Republicans seeking the post are Tim Adams, Kenneth Kline Jr., Edward Nassar, Robert Nozicka, Timothy Olszewski, Mike Roberts and Daniel Tackett.

After two public hearings, nary a public body in support and thousands of citizens with signatures opposed, it now appears the Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) and the Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) have little choice but to tell the Environmental Quality Company (EQ) thanks, but no thanks.

EQ is applying for a permit to accept polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs) at its landfill in Van Buren Township. They have orchestrated a public relations campaign that smoothly claims their desire to accept PCBs will be safe, harmless and a good thing for the environment because it will make it cost effective for Midwest environmental companies to ship the PCBs to EQ versus to sites thousands of miles away.

However, residents have questioned the numerous violations including an ugly stench that has permeated from the landfill. In addition, they are not at all confident that EQ can provide the safety precautions necessary to render PCBs harmless to the area's ground water and air.

Public officials including state representatives Kirk Profitt and Greg Pitoniak; Van Buren Township officials; City of Belleville officials, Township of Sumpter officials; and Ypsilanti Township officials have all been united in their opposition to the application.

Belleville Mayor Dennis Fassett made a particularly astute observation when he told the audience at the public hearing, "It is inconceivable to me, and to others, that time and time again we express all we have to say, and it seems to pass beyond those delegated to make important decision to those in Washington."

In other words, why are bureaucrats out of Washington, D.C. and Lansing the ultimate decision makers on an application like this that may have a major impact on the safety of the community? It seems to me that local bodies of government ought to have a greater voice and the ultimate decision in this matter. But other than their public comments, they have little to say.

EQ should be denied its application simply on the basis of the public outcry. Thousands of people have signed petitions and voiced their opinions that support denial of the PCB application. These are people that live in the area, breathe the air and drink the ground water. They deserve the opportunity to control their own environmental destiny.

Although many of the reasons put forth for denial are filled with doom and emotion, there are many viable reasons why a denial is in order. An emphatic "no" should be the proper answer from our bureaucrats.

Golfer displays rare form after disqualifying

I've never been a great sports fan, but I am an enthusiastic fan of the greats of sports.

Unfortunately, there are very few great sports figures today, and that's why the greats stand out head and shoulders above the crowd. There's no shortage of excellent players, but the stuff that greatness is made of is lacking in many notable sports figures because:

Many sports stars confuse their athletic ability with show business.

Those who make millions with their athletic ability, spend little time (unless it is during a sponsored promotional tour) with young and upcoming athletes, especially those living in disadvantaged areas.

While basking in the public image of a "hero," numerous athletes have presented anything but a heroic image to the public. Escapades involving drugs and alcohol have tarnished the image of many so-called heroes. Often, the courtroom slap on the wrist for their illegal actions have served to encourage, not discourage youngsters from following along the same path of substance abuse.

OLYMPIC SPIRIT...

Comments challenged

To the editor:

Ms. Sandra Yerman's letter published in your July 18, 1996 newspaper about the EDS deep well presents some interesting issues.

1. Ms. Yerman states "there are water wells in the immediate area surrounding the well, contrary to the feasibility study submitted to the DNR by EDS."

EDS suggests that Ms. Yerman or anyone else having information on such wells provide it to us at P.O. Box 74456, Romulus, Mich. so we can correct our report to the MDEQ. We certainly would appreciate receiving any information of this type, since we could not find records of such wells at the City Hall, the County, or the State.

2. Ms. Yerman further states that "EDS is trying to infringe upon the private property right of the citizens adjacent to the Wahrman Road well, to their absolute use, of their water wells."

This is a false statement. EDS' deepwell on Wahrman Road has not nor will it interfere with the use of private water wells.

Is there anyone else out there that feels the same way I do? Maybe, you can forget about this senseless killing; but, I can't and I won't either! Because I knew him personally as a father and a man that knew the Bible and God. Am I the only one that feels this loss of a great man or are there others that are afraid to speak up? Must we hide behind our closed doors for so long or will we finally speak out?

I ask of you, let's come together and solve this murder; so, the people that knew and loved Mr. Fred Williams Sr. can rest peacefully.

Disagrees with 'experts'

To the editor:

In the recent past we've had State Attorney General Frank Kelley call the voters stupid for being in favor of term limits. We've had Oakland County Executive Brooks Patterson say that the voters would be stupid if they voted against the property tax "reform" scheme. This year we've had Phil Gramm effectively say that he withdrew from the presidential race because the voters were too stupid to realize that he was the best candidate.

Now, in a recent Canton Eagle article, we've had the latest expert on stupidity weigh in, Dearborn Chief of Police Denzel. He was quoted as saying that the out-county voters would be stupid if they didn't return John O'Hair to office.

I had wondered why Mr. O'Hair took a sudden interest in the strip clubs after turning a blind eye for several years, I had heard about shenanigans back in 1993 or earlier and I'm usually the last to know, and also the timing of such concern. Then a recent column by Hugh McDermid tipped me off to his role in the crucifixion of Budzen and Nevers. Now it's obvious. Someone postponed a crowd-pleaser issue in order to curry favor with the voters in an election year.

I have no sympathy for strip club owners. They are nothing more than money grubbing pirates who hide behind the First Amendment. Granted, they can provide some colorful material in scandals as per The Morning Glory Caper. I also know that cops can go rouge or turn in to outright criminals. The Philadelphia Police Department provided a wealth of evidence and entertainment between 1976 and 1984 when they were almost continuously under investigation. (Note that this was before the second "M.O.V.E." shoot-out and its resulting F.B.I. investigation.)

As a voting resident of the "free" portion of Wayne County, what Denzel calls "the out-county", I feel that if I'm doing something that's "foolish" in his sight, I must be doing something right. I show up to vote at every election no matter how minor, and every time O'Hair's name is on the ballot I will vote against him. And I am sick and tired of self appointed experts calling the will of the people "stupid".

One final point. Mr. Denzel wanted The Cracker Barrel chain to reimburse Dearborn for overtime and other expenses incurred by their police force as it fulfilled a mutual support agreement. Does anyone recall Dearborn reimbursing the communities of Wayne County who ran up overtime and other expenses when their police forces assisted Dearborn in the parks controversy of 1986?

Gerrymandering struck down

To the editor:

The U.S. Supreme Court ruling that race cannot be a factor in drawing legislative district lines makes Michigan's Legislative Districts unconstitutional. Michigan's Legislative district maps which give more voting power to blacks at the expense of suburban voters is racist, unfair and now unconstitutional.

The U.S. Supreme Court struck down racial gerrymandering, a technique to maximize black seats by drawing districts in strange shapes to artificially combine separate black commu-

Safe waste management vital

By Jerry Fore
Wayne Disposal vice president

Safe waste management is vital to Michigan's ability to support continuing economic growth that does not threaten our natural resources. Michigan industry cannot provide good paying jobs and remain in compliance with modern environmental regulations without the safe and effective waste management services provided by companies like Wayne Disposal. Many manufacturing companies have made significant reductions in the amount of waste they produce, but there will always be some hazardous waste that must be safely managed and isolated from the environment.

If we want to do a thorough job of safeguarding our environment, we must also address the nearly 3,000 Act 307 sites throughout the state where hazardous materials are not effectively isolated from soil, air, or water. The Michigan Department of Environmental Quality (DEQ) has identified at least 148 of these Act 307 sites that have been contaminated with polychlorinated biphenyls (PCBs), including several here in southeastern Michigan.

The DEQ estimates that there are at least 33 PCB contaminated sites in Wayne County alone, representing nearly a quarter of the statewide total. Nearly 50 percent of all PCB contaminated sites in our state are located in Wayne County and the six surrounding counties. These sites will not get cleaned up and put back into productive use without safe and cost-effective waste management options and the potential for human exposure will remain high.

It is not our intent to scare people by discussing these contaminated sites. Our intent is to demonstrate that Michigan needs companies like Wayne Disposal and its related EQ companies to help deal with existing problems. We share community concerns about PCBs and hazardous wastes and feel strongly that it is much safer to address contaminated sites as quickly as possible and dispose of these wastes in a secure facility. This aggressive strategy will allow us to get these hazardous materials out of the environment and away from people.

Many PCB cleanups have been delayed for years, because there are only seven facilities in the United States that are licensed to accept these wastes and none of them are within 350 miles of Michigan. This situation adds hundreds of thousands of dollars in transportation fees to the cost of each cleanup. This money could be better used to clean up additional contaminated sites.

The Wayne Disposal Hazardous Waste Landfill is the safest and most secure facility in Michigan for the responsible management of hazardous and PCB wastes. Our existing landfill was constructed with modern materials and state-of-the-art technology with the express purpose of containing waste in a secure environment. During the nearly 20 years that the hazardous waste landfill has operated in Van Buren Township, we have never had a problem with ground water contamination. That is a documented fact supported by continuous ground water monitoring data that is conducted by an outside firm and shared with the DEQ and EPA.

EQ related companies have a good overall compliance record that's as good or better than any in the industry.

Sportsmanlike conduct is becoming more rare, and admitting one's own responsibility for errors is even more rare. Today, it is the coach, the manager, other players, the opposition, the fans or the media which is blamed for mishaps on the field of play.

The lack of personal responsibility for errors is so rare that I was more than a little surprised to hear golfer Greg Norman admit to making an error that resulted in his disqualification from the Greater Hartford Open last week.

"Golf is a game of rules," he told a television interviewer. "You live by the rules of the game. Now I know the rules."

Norman had been testing golf balls for a manufacturer and the regulation balls were stamped with different code numbers so that Norman could report the success of each as he played it. One of the competition golf balls did not have a U.S. Golf Association approved label (although it was a regulation golf ball), and the use of it disqualified Norman from the match.

My first thought was that Norman is a "class act," worthy of the designation of a sports great.

Then, I thought of all of the excuses that others might have made to avoid personal responsibility for the gaff -- "the manufacturer should have known better," "the rules are too inflexible," "it was a regulation ball anyway," or "that was the ball the caddy handed me."

It was a tough break for Norman, but I hope the subtle message got through to those who watched the interview -- golf is a game of rules, Norman broke one of the rules and he was disqualified.

I wish his luck in the future. If anyone desires a big win, it's Norman -- a class act!

nities to form one black majority district. Texas and North Carolina legislative districts followed highways artificially combining black neighborhoods located far apart into one black majority district.

Michigan's racial gerrymandering technique artificially creates extra black majority seats with a 16.4% population variance between district. Michigan's State Legislative seats in Detroit are drawn at the lowest part of the population variance to pack in an extra 2 or 3 black State House seats. Suburban House Seats are drawn with population at the upper end of the population range. Detroit House Districts population are as small as 79,577 while suburban seats are as high as Macomb County's district 23 at 91,368. Michigan's U.S. Congressional Districts were drawn with only a one person population difference (zero deviation) between the 16 districts.

Michigan's racist Legislative Districts are cheating white voters out of their fair voting power. Even though suburban Legislators represent over 11,000 more people than Detroit Legislators we have only one vote. Suburban voters are also cheated out of government services since their Legislators must struggle to handle the problems of 11,000 more people than the Detroit Legislators with the same staff and office budget as Detroit Legislators.

Each year, Michigan's race conscious Legislative districts steal even more voting power from white communities. Since the suburban district population grows while Detroit's population shrinks, the population difference becomes more extreme each year. The 1990 census showed that two Detroit House Districts had less people together than my single Macomb County district!

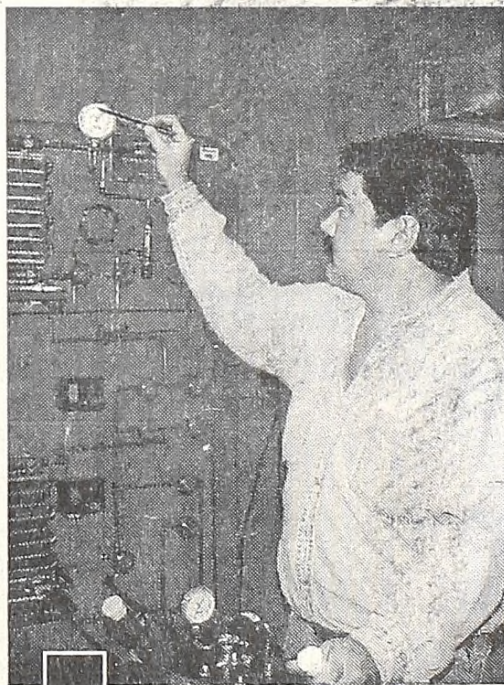

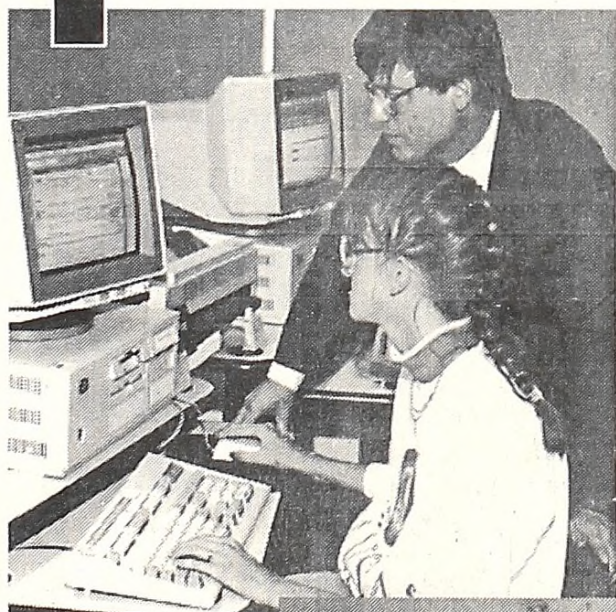

The Legislature has the authority to redraw legislative district lines at any time. I will try to force the Republican Legislative Leadership to redraw State House and Senate districts to comply with the U.S. Supreme Court's prohibition of racist minority districts when the Legislature returns to session on July 2, 1996. Let's return to the one man, one vote principle for Michigan Legislative districts.

Belleville residents exhibit in car show

Richard Donahey and Donald Bluhm, both Belleville residents, will be exhibiting their restored classic cars at this year's Concours d'Elegance, the annual classic automobile show benefiting Meadow Brook Hall.

From 9 a.m. to 4 p.m., Aug. 4, Donahey will be showing his 1911 Renault, while Bluhm displays his 1939 Cadillac.

The 18th annual Concours d'Elegance will be held at Meadow Brook Hall, on the grounds of Oakland University in Rochester. It will offer a unique celebration of the Centennial of the American Automobile by showcasing the most significant automobiles of every decade from 1896 to 1969. According to organizers, some 60 cars have been specifically selected and invited because they represent the absolute "showstoppers" in American automobile history. According to the Meadow Brook Car Selection Committee Co-Chairman, Dave Hollis, "These were the most desirable and sought after cars in America, the cars everyone wanted, the cars they dreamed of owning!"

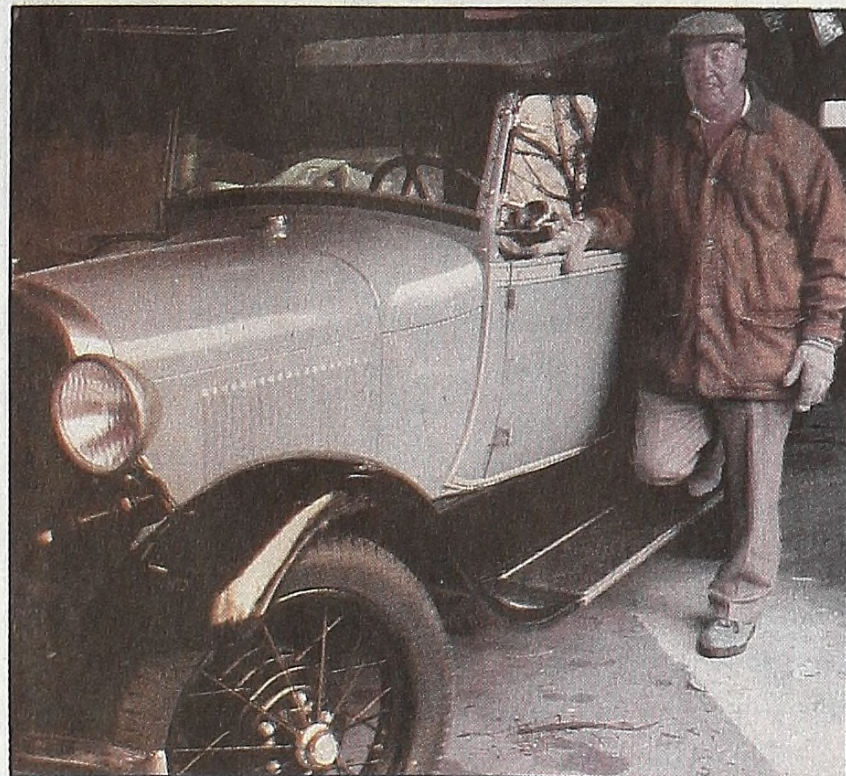

These "superstar" Centennial autos, along with 200 additional cars representing all makes and eras, from the world over, will grace the lush grounds of the historic auto baron mansion, Meadow Brook Hall. The lavish 1,400 acre estate, one of the finest examples of Tudor architecture in America, was the former home of Matilda Dodge Wilson. All proceeds from the Concours are devoted entirely to the maintenance and preservation of Meadow Brook Hall.

The English sports car MG will be the honored sports marquee for this year's Concours. An array of historic MGs, with significant race histories, including several works racers, will appear at the Concours on Sunday and will race in the Meadow Brook Historic Races at Waterford Hills Raceway all weekend.

Chairman, Chief Executive Officer and President of General Motors, Jack Smith has been named 1996 Honorary Chairman. Josh Madden, President of Materials Engineering Services, Inc. of Rochester Hills is chairman.

The Meadow Brook Concours ranks among the three most prestigious Concours events in the world. The other two are the Concours at Bagatelle Paris, France, and at Pebble Beach in California.

Donald Bluhm of Belleville will be showing his 1939 Cadillac at the prestigious automobile show.

Fashions complement cars

The Concours d'Elegance once again incorporates the highly successful fashion element into its weekend activities in the spirit of the original French Concours events of the 1920s.

Highlights include the Mode du Concours on Sunday, when Elle magazine and Saks

Fifth Avenue will present three separate fashion shows of the latest designer ensembles matched with award-winning classic autos.

On Aug. 2, Meadow Brook Hall hosts the Concours Runway Fashion Show and Luncheon featuring the fall collection of David Hayes.

'Superstar' cars are show stoppers

The English sports car MG will be the honored sports car for the 1996 Concours. An array of historic MGs with significant race histories, including several works racers, will appear on Sunday and will race in the Meadow Brook Historic Races at Waterford Hills Raceway all weekend.

All proceeds from the Concours will be used for the maintenance and preservation of Meadow Brook Hall.

Auto Centennial celebration spans the state of Michigan

Detroit may lay claim to the nickname "Motor City" and be known as the auto capital of the world...but a little research proves that Detroit didn't do it alone.

The entire state is steeped in automotive heritage and culture, and 1996 is the summer to celebrate it, as cultural and entertainment sites throughout the state "flash their brights" to celebrate the Centennial of the American Automobile Industry.

From Detroit to Kalamazoo, Grand Rapids to Lansing to Flint and north to Mackinac, packages are available for summer 1996 that include admission to Michigan museums, overnight accommodations and other travel amenities.

The Auto Centennial celebration began in May, when the only existing Duryea Motor Wagon from the first, 13-car production run toured the state in commemoration of 1896 - the year the Duryea brothers of Massachusetts built and marketed this, the first production model of an American automobile. That same year a century ago, Henry Ford drove his first Quadricycle down the streets of Dearborn, and drove the State of Michigan into automotive history.

Both the last existing Duryea on earth and that first Ford Quadricycle are on permanent exhibit at Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village in Dearborn. Dozens of other vehicles and automotive history can be found in the Museum's landmark exhibition, "100 Years of the Automobile in American Life."

A full-color brochure outline Michigan's 1996 special events and overnight options is available free of charge to help travelers with summer planning. Copies of the brochure, "Celebrate 100 Years of the Automobile with a Summer Adventure," is available by calling Henry Ford Museum & Greenfield Village, Marketing Services: (313) 271-1620, ext. 422.

Westland wins 20th annual Anderson title

Champs' 9-run 3rd stuns Sterling Heights

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Westland-based Jimmies exploded for nine runs in the third inning and hung on to win a 20-19 decision over Sterling Heights on Sunday to capture the 1996 edition of the Patrolman Leonard J. Anderson Memorial Invitational Softball Tournament.

The Westlanders erupted for three home runs as the tournament's MVP Scott Hille hammered a roundtripper with Scott Nastally and Roger Siedlik aboard to ignite the nine-run rally. Hille's circuit clout was followed by home runs from John Sampson and Mike Simmonds.

Down 12-5 after three, Sterling Heights, with the aid of sluggers Jim Harvey and Jim Melencapp, who had perfect four-for-fours at-bats in the finals, came back and scored seven runs in the fourth to tie the score at 12-each. The Westlanders then scored two runs in their fourth, added six more in the fifth to seal the victory and the title.

"It was a real crowd-pleaser," said Larry Quartuccio, who manages the Westland club. "You got to give them (Sterling Heights) a lot of credit. They refused to quit and made us work for the victory."

Quartuccio said that he had some concerns about how his team would perform in the tournament because his players were coming off an impressive and hard-fought victory at the prestigious Kiracofe Invitational.

The Kiracofe is one of the nation's blue chip USSSA tournaments.

"I feared a letdown.

"That obviously wasn't the case. Our club got down to business and got the job done."

The Leonard J. Anderson Invitational is in tribute to slain Wayne police officer who was shot and killed in May of 1974 responding to a domestic quarrel at a house in Wayne. He is the only Wayne police officer killed in the line of duty.

Ironically, Patrolman Anderson's son, Greg, who was an infant at the time his father was killed, was sworn last week as a Wayne police officer. During the ceremonies, Greg Anderson, said that he had always wanted to be a police officer.

It was the second time that Westland, which has three sponsors - Jimmies/Grover's/Critter Control - has won the title. It posted its first tournament victory in 1990.

The Westlanders got an outstanding effort from Hille, named the tournament's Most Valuable Player. Hille collected two hits in three at-bats, including the decisive three-run homer in the

Broncos ousted in state

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

The Broncos' dreams of a state baseball championship were shattered Saturday in Grand Ledge.

But the Westland champ forced The Lakes of Waterford into extra innings before it coughed up a 16-15 decision and the state championship for 11-12 year olds in the 10th inning.

Coach Jeff Child's team came back twice in the late innings to tie the score, but the Westlanders just couldn't get the go-ahead run. The two teams were tied at 13-all and also at 15 in the eighth before the Lakes pushed the winning run across in the 10th.

"It was a disappointing loss," said Child after the play-offs. "But we are not disappointed in this team. They hung in there and gave it their best. We're all proud of the way they played."

Rick Verville was charged with the loss, in relief.

Westland received an outstanding performance from Ryan Ybarra, who sliced three hits, including an inside the park home run.

A two-run, pinch-hit single by Verville kept the Westlanders' hopes alive as the Broncos tied the game at 13-all. Verville, who pitched the last three innings, was tagged with the loss.

In the eighth, Westland again rallied as Bruce Simmonds' double drove in two runs that tied the game at 15.

Westland also wasted a sterling effort from Matt Patterson, who collected a single, double and triple. He missed hitting for "the cycle" when he failed to connect for the HR.

The Broncos got off to a losing start when they dropped a 7-2 decision in the opening round to DeWitt as Terry Pavlich and Ybarra couldn't stop DeWitt's bats.

Jim Barter's triple, a Pavlich's double and triple led the Broncos' hitting assault. Catcher Brad Suchan did an exceptional job behind the plate.

The opening-day loss apparently served as a wake-up call to the Westlanders who jumped on Okemos, 7-2, in the second round as Ybarra looked invincible on the mound.

The good-looking prospect notched a total of 14 strikeouts in chalking up the victory.

Ybarra received plenty of support from his teammates at the plate where James Jones had a perfect 3 for 3 game. Ryan Horne and Andrew Peiffer each had two hits.

In Game 3, Westland avenged its first-round loss to DeWitt, 3-2, as outfielder Joe Cichowski played an extraordinary game on defense and Brandon Proffer came through with a game-winning hit. Ryan Loftin and Patterson each checked in with two hits.

Golf fever strikes

City champion golf committee to meet Friday

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

There are 10 days remaining to tee time for the 1996 City Golf Championships.

The 36-hole, two-day tournament will be staged the weekend of Aug. 3-4 at the Woodlands of Van Buren to decide the city titles for the cities of Wayne, Westland, Romulus, Inkster and Canton Township and the makeup for the city teams that will advance to the state.

A committee made up of Jeff Rutter, tournament director, Gary Clark, Mark Morton, and Jim Mrozinski, the pro at Woodlands, plan to meet Friday morning to discuss ground rules for the 1996 summer classic.

"We presently have about 40 golfers entered to play in the tournament," said Rutter, "but there are a score of others who I know that also have expressed interest in playing."

"I feel that before the cutoff date, we may have around 100 golfers."

The tournament is open to all residents - men and women living in the participating communities. Nonresident may play, but only bona fide residents may compete at state.

Golfers will be competing for their city titles and also for a berth on the five-player city team that may qualify for the state finals of the Michigan Parks and Recreation playoffs which will be conducted in September at Binder Park Golf Course in Battle Creek.

The local competition will be divided into flights after the first-round of play with the top first-round players assigned to the championship flights. The top three finishers in each of the flights will be awarded trophies, presented to them by their parks and recreation departments.

There will also be a trophy awarded to the medalist (low-scorer) of the entire field.

Rutter stressed that if a city fails to fulfill its quota of at least six players, the competitors will be assigned to an Open Flight.

To compete in this year's championships, competitors should fill out the entry form that accompanies this story. With it, and a $65 registration fee check (which covers greens and trophy fees), mail the form and the check to: Wayne Parks and Recreation Department, 4635 Howe Road, Wayne, Mich. 48184.

Please make checks payable to the City of Wayne.

For further information, please contact Jeff Rutter at the Wayne Parks and Recreation Department at 721-7400 or Michigan Community Newspapers' staff writer Tom Mooradian. Mooradian may be reached by dialing 729-4000.

Westlander eyes berth on national ball team

Ryan Anderson, an outstanding baseball prospect who hails from Westland, is one of 47 hopefuls invited to participate in the USA Junior National Team trials.

The trials got underway Sunday at the Missouri Southern State College.

The players will be divided into three teams - Red, White and Blue - and during an eight-day period practice together, play regulation games and later be tested for ability and skills.

At the conclusion of the training camp on July 28, USA Baseball officials will select 18 players for the 1996 USA Baseball Team. After the team is finalized, the All-Stars will train in Jacksonville (Florida) the first week in August before traveling to the 1996 International Baseball Association AAA World Junior Baseball championships slated for Aug. 9-16 in Santic Spirtus, Cuba.

It is the first time that the USA Baseball Association is utilizing its Junior Trials as the final step in its player selection process. Anderson was invited after the USA Baseball Junior Staff, which included college recruiters and coaches, along with professional scouts and high school coaches who offered the Westland player's name for consideration.

3 share golf lead

There is a logjam at the top of the standings in the Women's Suburban Golf Association this week.

Three golfers - Diane Berry, JoAnne McVicar and Pat Myers - turned in 88s to share medalist honors in the first flight of the league.

However, Dearborn Heights' Lillian Vanderbroker, who shot a 74, came away with the low net score honors for the week.

In the third flight, Wayne's Pat Heneke carded a 103 to lead that flight's golfers.

Coach and Pitch champs

With an enviable 9-1-1 overall record, the Pirates captured the Westland Youth Athletic Association conference and tournament "Coach- Pitch" titles this season. Members of the championship team pictured above are T.J. Hille leads All-Star team

By TOM MOORADIAN
MCN Staff Writer

Scott Hille, who led Jimmie's to the 1996 Len Anderson Invitational title, was the unanimous coaches' choice for the Most Valuable Player award for the tournament.

Hille, a former John Glenn star, boasted a phenomenal .705 batting average for the five game series that ended with Westland claiming its second championship in the 20-year history of the Wayne tournament.

Coaches drafted four others from the champs' lineup for the All-Star team. Picked are Mark Lipinski, Mike Verana, John Sampson and Mike Simmonds.

Money Lightning, a team out of Sterling Heights, which lost to Westland in the championship round, placed four players on the 1996 All-Stars. The tournament runnersup are represented by Jim Williams, Brian Smith, Kory Hison and Jim Harvey.

Prudential/Pickering, also a team out of Westland, captured three berths on the mythical team. Representing Prudential/Pickering are Pat Wayne, Bruce Perry and Jim Isakson, all of whom had an outstanding tourney.

Wayne and Mark Matchula finished the series sharing the highest batting average. They finished with a remarkable .824 average, the best-ever in the 20-year-history of the Anderson.

John Jones walked away with the Home Run Derby trophy. He drilled three over the fence in seven attempts, while the Home Run King honors were split between Mark Matchula and Brian Smith.

Quartuccio, a Westland native who is employed by an airline, returned to Wayne from Cleveland where he has been transferred, to help stage the tourney.

"I am going to do this as long as I can," he said. "It is an outstanding tournament. There are a lot of good people involved in staging it, and I would like to remain a part of this memory as long as I can."

Westland's Rick Wayne (photo above) unleashes a pitch that helped Jimmie's post a 20-19 victory over Sterling Heights in the championship round of the 20th annual Anderson softball tournament. third. Sampson also came through at the plate as he drilled homers the first two times he was at the plate. He was intentionally walked in his final two appearances at bat. Mike Varanna also helped the champs with three hits - a double and a pair of singles.

Westland pitcher Rick Wayne chalked up the victory. To get to the finals, Westland had to beat city rival Prudential/Pickering/LH in the semis. The champs emerged with a 22-13 victory as Greg Tome' laced four hits - all singles, and Siedlik connected for two homers. Hille, Sampson and Mike Simmonds each homered for the winners.

Scott Nastally, the winning pitcher, gave up five homers - three of the roundtrippers went to Jim Isakson, while Pat Wayne, Rick's older brother, homered twice and singled. He drove in five runs.

In their three other tournament games, Westland turned back Cliff Keen, a team out of Ann Arbor, in the first round, 12-5. They then met Austin Lightning, also of Westland, and posted a 15-4 victory.

The victory over Austin set up a crucial game for the champs against pre-tournament favorite Plumbing & Pipefitters, and the champs stunned their rivals, 19-2.

There were no kinks in the 1996 tournament, according to Quartuccio.

"This is the first time in the past four tournaments that we didn't have rain. We had perfect weather conditions," Quartuccio thanked Rick Powell, the assistant tournament manager, and the Wayne Parks and Recreation, for their help.

Twisters kick off season

The area's first semi-professional football team is ready for action.

The Twisters, tapping into a wealth of ex-football high school and college talent, will make their debut in the Downriver Community Conference at 8 p.m. on July 27.

"We are as ready as we ever will be," said Canton's Glenn J. Brothers, president and CEO of the Wayne County Twisters, who is anxiously awaiting the opening kick-off. "I am confident that this team is going to be well-received in the area and the county."

The Twisters will clash with the Clyde's Panthers, a team out of Ohio, for their opener. The Panthers are coached by Chad Parker.

The six-team, semi-pro conference also will have teams from the North Coast (Rebels), Toledo (Tornadoes), Motor City (Cougars) and Findlay (Lightning).

The Twisters will utilize Southgate Schafer High School's field as its home field.

For further information about the Twisters or the league contact Glenn Brothers at 313-481-7141.

Adopt-A-Pet

It is that time of year, when thoughts turn to new beginnings and new adventures. And what better time to think about an addition to the family. Last week, more than 30 families took advantage of the services of the Michigan Humane Society and adopted new pets from the Westland Shelter.

The process is simple. Those seeking that perfect pet simply visit the shelter and select one of the eager animals awaiting adoption. Then, an adoption counselor will help the prospective owner complete a questionnaire regarding the care of the animal and the home into which it may go.

After that, the adoption documents are signed and the wiggly bundle of fur and affection is ready to travel home with a new family.

Michigan Humane Society officials are careful to point out that inoculations and sterilization of all animals must be guaranteed by the new owner and there is a moderate adoption fee and a sterilization deposit requested for puppies and kittens who may not yet have all their inoculations or be neutered.

At present, more than 30 animals await new homes and winter will bring in many new litters of puppies and kittens needing homes. And, as usual, there are several adult animals who have been abandoned, lost or given up by their owners.

The shelter, located at 37255 Marquette Road in Westland, serves the entire area and is open for adoptions from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., Monday through Saturday.

Further information is available at 721-7300.

Northside True Value Hardware owner Phil Kaplan welcomes customers to his store. MCN photo by Joan Dyer-Zinner

Hardware and hot dogs are winning combination

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

No matter what spectacular bargains are offered at the annual Wayne Sidewalk Sale, the 25-cent hot dogs and pop are the highlight of the event for many shoppers at Northside True Value Hardware.

If you ask area residents what draws them to the Wayne Sidewalk Sale each year, the answer of many is "the 25-cent hot dog!"

The hardware store, owned by Phil Kaplan, has participated in the Wayne Sidewalk Sale days since the event began in 1958.

"Years ago, we offered the hot dogs one year and ice cream the next. We had planned to switch from year to year until we discovered how popular the 25-cent hot dogs and Pepsi were," said Kaplan. "At that price, a family can have lunch or dinner for $2, which buys eight hot dogs and eight Pepsis. That beats the price of the fast food chains!"

Kaplan noted that many old customers come back every year to shop and enjoy the bargain-priced hot dogs at the Sidewalk Sale.

"It's our way of saying 'thank you' to our customers," Kaplan said.

Shoppers will find new merchandise at special prices at Northside Hardware's Sidewalk Sale – not just clearance merchandise.

"Originally, the Sidewalk Sale was an event to clear out summer stock that was left over, but the sale evolved into the sale of new merchandise specially priced for the event," said Kaplan. "There's special values and special prices for our customers."

The event – while a positive one for the hardware store and staff – is a very costly venture in terms of labor.

"There is a lot of work involved with extra labor and overtime," said Kaplan. "We don't just stock the sale once – we have to set up for the Thursday opening, take it down at closing and set it up again for Friday and Saturday."

Even though the sale involved a lot of work for the staff, it is an annual event that they enjoy because it brings back old customers and introduces new customers to the store, he said.

The Sidewalk Sale is such a wonderful event because it's something the whole family can enjoy.

There is ample free parking and admission is free.

The Historic Wayne Theater is located next to Standard Federal Bank on westbound Michigan Avenue, one block west of Wayne Road.

The Palace Theater Company is an all-volunteer, non-profit corporation set up to restore the Historic Wayne Theater and to open a Center for the Arts for Western Wayne County.

Information is available by calling 326-4805 or 728-4218.

Loretta Blankenship of Westland (left) carefully looks at the merchandise at the Wayne Sidewalk Sale before making her selection. The street scene above, was photographed in 1966, indicating the long history of the Sidewalk Sale in Wayne -- an event that is looked forward to by my area residents each summer.

All roads lead to Sidewalk Sale

Whether visitors are coming from north, south, east or west, they will have no problem finding their way into downtown Wayne during the Wayne Sidewalk Sale.

Those living in the areas north of Wayne, can travel south on Interstate-275 to the Michigan Avenue exit, and the proceed east to Wayne. The heart of the city can also be reached by Hannan Road, Newburgh Road, Wayne Road, Venoy Road, Merriman Road and other major north-south roads.

Visitors from south of Wayne can travel north on Interstate-275 and exit on Michigan Avenue and travel east to Wayne, or use any of the other north-south roads.

While Michigan Avenue is the most direct route into the heart of Wayne, other east-west roads, including Interstate-94 can bring visitors to the city.

Special bargains are listed in the pages of this section, and more sales can be discovered when one travels from store to store.

Store is 'huge' hardware

It may sound a bit contradictory, but Northside True Value Hardware has been described as a "great big, huge, little hardware."

The store began as a corner shop at Wayne Road and Glenwood Avenue, but gradually expanded to include the eight or nine other stores on the block.

It is not only big in area, but huge when it comes to stock.

"We have 175 percent of what a store of comparable size would stock, according to the Michigan Retail Hardware Association," said owner Phil Kaplan who founded the store with his brother, Sid.

Customers browsing in the store can easily believe that statistic as they stroll through fully stocked aisles of tools, electrical and plumbing supplies, tools and various household needs.

"In spite of all of the hard work to prepare for the annual Sidewalk Sale, it is a wonderful experience for everyone," said Kaplan.

Service is secret of store's success

By JOAN DYER-ZINNER
MCN Managing Editor

If you want to know how a corner hardware store in Wayne manages to successfully battle the "giants" in the business, the answer is simple: service.

"We want customers to have a good experience when they come into the store," said Northside True Value Hardware owner Phil Kaplan. "If you ask one of our employees where something is, he'll take you to it, and if you want something that we don't have in stock, we'll order it."

However, with shelves and counters stocked with a huge assortment of merchandise, it is not likely that customers will not be able to find what they want in the store.

"If we don't have it, you don't need it," quipped Kaplan.

"We have a bigger selection of items than customers can find at some of the 'giant chains.' Where we stock 10 different makes of circuit breakers, for example, they stock three," he said. "It's the same with other electrical items, plumbing supplies and equipment and tools. We have a bigger selection of items."

Northside not only stocks faucets for new sinks, but also has faucet stems to fit sinks that are 20 or 30 years ago.

"We go out of our way to give service. I've made several long distance calls to find a particular item for a customer -- even if it has cost me $10 to sell an $11 item," Kaplan said.

Customers never have long waits at the cash register, said the store owner.

"If we see more than three people in line, we open another cash register," he said. "We have five check-outs -- four in the front and one at the rear of the store. Our employees are first trained as cashiers and then moved into other positions."

Kaplan said he faces a difficult challenge to sell at the same price as nation-wide chains. There are 10 large chains which sell similar items to those at Northside Hardware, and from time to time, each has special sales.

Some 75 employees work at the store, which is open from 8 a.m. to 9 p.m. daily and from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. on Sundays.

History of Sidewalk Sale told

When the Wayne Sidewalk Sale was first created in 1958, Michigan Avenue was not divided, streets were blocked off for customers to browse through each corner and the clothes discounted at the time may have been a bit different in style.

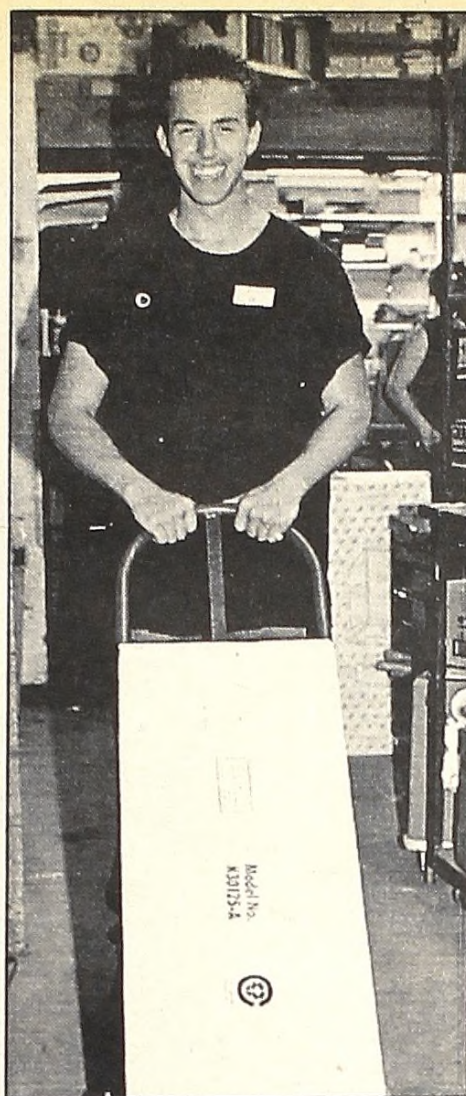

What hasn't changed over the years, however, with the Sidewalk event is the excitement.

Although more than three decades have passed, businesses continue to offer their best bargains and shoppers can't get enough of quality merchandise that is discounted.

Donna McEachern, directed of the Wayne Chamber of Commerce, said in her more than 20 years as director, she fondly remembers the early events.

The Sidewalk Sale has traditionally been three days. It started in the fall but made its way to July as Mother Nature decided not to cooperate on certain years, according to McEachern.

The very first Sidewalk Sales showcased many of the businesses goods including clothes, jewelry, pots and pans.
